

The Center for Consumer Law Files Amicus Brief in Arbitration Matter

The Center for Consumer Law recently filed an amicus brief on behalf of contract law professors, in the matter of Buckeye Check Cashing v. Cardegna, arguing against the enforcement of an arbitration clause contained in an illegal and void predatory lending contract. On November 29, 2005, the Supreme Court heard oral arguments in the case. The Cardegnas were represented by Paul Bland of Trial Lawyers for Public Justice. Professor Alderman and his research assistants, Anna Lam and Phyllis Fairchild attended the oral argument.
